

LOCAL BREVITIES

Some Things You Know and Some You Don't Know About Our Towns, County & People

—This cool snap since the rain is retarding the growth of vegetation.

—Monday was saleday but there was nothing to be sold on the block.

—N. D. Taylor, photographer, will be in his studio in Pickens, on Saturday the 8th instant.

—Mr. George Corbin has been confined to his room, in Pickens since Thursday with a very severe case of grip.

—Mrs. H. T. Peek, and little daughter, of Grovania, Ga., is on a visit to the family of her brother-in-law, J. A. Peek, in Pickens.

—Miss Opal Adler, a most beautiful and charming young lady, of Macon, Ga., is on a visit to her friend, Mrs. J. A. Peek, in Pickens.

—Arthur Lewis, who is one of Uncle Sam's sailor boys, is off on a two-weeks furlough and is now visiting his mother and other relatives in Pickens.

—The only fatality heard, so far, in this county, from Friday night, was the killing that night by lightning, of a colored woman who lived in the Dacusville section.

—Mrs. Carrie Robinson, who has been quite sick at the home of her mother, Mrs. K. L. Cureton, in Pickens, has recovered sufficiently to be able to return to her home in Liberty.

—Mrs. H. A. Richey, of Pickens, received a message Monday, calling her to the bedside of her sister, Mrs. Fannie Evatt, of Gainsville, Ga., who is critically ill and not expected to live.

—Mrs. Shannon Morrison left Friday for her home in Columbia, after a visit to her daughter in Pickens. She was accompanied back home by her daughter Mrs. J. T. Richey and little daughter, Margaret.

—J. A. Peek, manager of the Pickens Hardware Co., is beavailing the death of his favorite Jersey heifer, which occurred last Saturday morning. The cause of her death is unknown as she was not sick long.

—The old soldiers of the county are being made happy, or at least those of them entitled to pensions are. Clerk of court A. J. Boggs is now handing over to the old Veterans the State's appropriation as a recompense for their bravery and valor.

—Farmers from various sections of the county, who were in Pickens Monday, report that the recent rain was the heaviest that has fallen in years. Hail, ice and frost are also reported as having been seen. In places, it is thought that the crops will have to be replanted.

—Mr. Wm. Glenn, who has been the book-keeper for Messrs. Folger, Thornley & Co., for some time, has resigned his position and returned to his home at Liberty, where he will become identified with the new bank soon to be established at that place. His place in Pickens is being acceptably filled by Mr. W. L. Matheny.

—Our good old friend and subscriber, J. M. Edens, of Marietta, R. 2, was in Pickens Tuesday. This is the first time he had been away from home in 45 days, having been sick for that length of time. He says he has not been getting his paper regularly. The handler of mail on that route must be more careful with mail.

—We are requested to announce that the election for school trustees for Pickens district, number 31, will be held next Saturday evening, from one to five o'clock, at the court house. The following ticket, has been suggested by quite a number of the patrons of this district as trustees: T. J. Mauldin, J. E. Parsons and T. L. Bivens.

—Born on the 3d instant, to Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Prince, of Pickens, R. 3, a fine daughter.

—Miss Curtis Harper, of the G. F. C., spent a part of last week in Pickens, the guest of the Misses Taylor.

—Miss Maka Boggs, who is attending the G. F. C., spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Boggs, in Pickens.

—We would appreciate it very much if the citizens of our city and all communities where our paper has a circulation, would send us the names of friends and relatives who may be visiting them. It will make our paper much newssier and besides be a means of showing your friends that you appreciate their visits.

—Mrs. Van Jones, who has ill for some time, died last Sunday, just two weeks after the death of her husband, and was laid to rest by his side the day following her death. She was in her eighty-fourth year and was a consistent Christian and a member of the church for a number of years. She leaves nine children besides a host of relatives and friends to mourn her demise.

—There will be a lecture in the Pickens Presbyterian church next Friday night, the 7th instant beginning at 8 o'clock. This lecture will be given by J. H. Gruver, on the Missionary Forward Movement, and he comes highly recommended as a forceful speaker. Mr. Gruver is a missionary but is not assigned to work at present. The public is cordially invited to come out and hear him.

—When time and space is scarce, we sometimes have to cut down the letters of the correspondents, and in doing so, what seems to be of least importance, such as the visiting of neighbors, are left out. Correspondents should be careful not to put in too many items of this kind. Their letters are valued not by length but by the importance of the news. One paragraph is sometimes worth more than a column of trivial items.

—The ice-cream season is on and the Pickens Drug Co., are now handling cream in cones and you thus get your cream and cake together and get something nice too. They are preparing to handle it in quantities so that they can supply families. Now when some one drops in unexpectedly for a meal the house wife need not worry about the dessert, just ring up the Pickens Drug Co., and order it down and it will be there by the time it is needed.

—Barney Yates, a young man living a few miles above Pickens, accidentally shot himself Saturday with a gun and died Monday. It seems that he and two companions were going off in a buggy to do a piece of work and then go squirrel-hunting. Barney got on the back of the buggy and the hammers of his gun caught on the buggy axle and fired the charge through his chest. He breathed through his lungs, a portion of which was shot away, and lingered until Monday, when he died.

—Mr. Wayne F. Mauldin, of Pickens, and Miss Josie Boggs, of Easley, were happily married at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. M. E. Boggs, in that city, on the 28th ult. Rev. D. L. Lander, of the Presbyterian church performing the ceremony. The groom is one of the rising business men of our town and is to be congratulated on winning such a helpmate, while the bride is one of the most charming and lovely young ladies of our sister city, and by her charm and grace has endeared herself to all who know her. The happy young couple are receiving the congratulations of their many friends for a long, happy and prosperous life.

—Central Route 3
Health is good in this community.
News is scarce.
Married on the 16th instance, Miss Annie Harvie to Mr. Charlie Evans. Their many friends wish them much success and a long and happy life.

—Six Mile Items
Our section was visited by a heavy wind and rain Friday night, but no serious damage done.
Farmers are most through planting and are having a few days of pleasure in fishing and hunting.
There will be preaching at Six Mile on next second Saturday and Sunday, by our regular pastor, W. M. Walker. Sunday School will be at 9:30 o'clock and preaching at eleven on Sunday morning.

Dinner will be spread on the ground and singing in the afternoon. Let everybody come as a good time is expected.
On next Saturday afternoon at one o'clock all the ladies of this community are earnestly requested to be present at Six Mile for the purpose of organizing a "Womans Missionary Society."

—Please bear this in mind and be prompt, as the preaching hour is at two o'clock.
Our Sunday School is in a flourishing condition under the management of C. R. Abercrombie, our faithful superintendent, and our new secretary, J. W. M. Durham.
Jack Garrett, and little grandson J. C. Garrett of Spartanburg is spending this week with the former's brothers, W. R. and A. M. Garret of this community.
G. J. Ellenburg, of Lavonia, Ga., is on a ten days visit at the home of his son, George Ellenburg, and other relatives of our section.

—Misses Anna and Corrie Kenemore, of Pleasant Hill, visited relatives here recently.
Ilar G. Kelley, and brother and sister, of New Hope, Oconee County, were among relatives here recently. Clarence Phillips, is on an extended visit to friends in Oconee.
Robert Atkinson, of Catechee was in our town on business one day recently.
J. L. Dillard and family spent the latter part of last with relatives at Liberty.
Hon. J. C. Garret, of Norris, visited our Sunday School Sunday morning, and did some fine singing for us.
W. C. Garret, one of our appreciated merchants has the finest garden of early cabbage that the writer has seen.
The many friends of H. M. Hester our esteemed mail carrier on Pickens Route No. 2 are very sorry to know that he has been very ill and is not able to be on duty. His substitute, D. Harvey Kennemur has charge of the mail.
We are glad to learn that Miss Hattie Boroughs of Prater's is much better at this writing, after being indisposed for several weeks.
Miss Lula and Etta May Merck spent Saturday shopping in Seneca.
W. P. Garret, of Central was among relatives here recently.
Blue Bell.

—Hello Old Riddle! What is the matter with you? are you blind? If don't why don't you write? We all love to read the news from your section.
—Mrs. Harvey Kenemore, of the six mile section visited her mother-in-law, in the Pleasant Hill section Friday.
—Hello Farmer Girl! What has become of you? Wake up! I like to read your items.
Red Rose and Peach Blossom talks so much about B's fine horses that I am anxious to see this pair. B is a jolly old fellow any way. How about his sweet Greenville girl?
What has become of Old Wheel?
I wish the readers of the S.-J. would write more to it and then it would be more interesting to the subscribers.
Some people are planting cotton, but they had better look out the frost will get it.
Wake up subscribers and lets all of us write weekly letters to the dear old S.-J. I love to read the paper; I can enjoy myself when I sit down and read the news, especially the neighborhood gossip in the correspondents column.
All of you write from your section and each one lend a helping hand to the editor and help him to make of the S.-J. the ideal paper he is trying to make of it; and if you are owing anything on subscription send that in also, for it takes money to run his plant.
I was sitting out in my front porch Friday and who should pass but Mr. J. Aionzo Brown driving that fine pair of horses. Wonder if I could get to ride de-hinde that pair?
We live on the prettiest place on Central R.3; we have a nice flower-yard and it stays green all the winter and in summer it is in shade all the time. I can sit in my front porch and see the smoke from Central, Catechee and Seneca cotton mills.

—The small grain is lookins fine through this section.
The egg hunt at Pleasant Hill on Easter was well attended. There were over 100 eggs hid. It was a most enjoyable time with the young folks.
Rev. W. M. Walker filled his regular appointments at Six Mile on the second Sabbath.
It looks like summer time now The grass will grow if nothing else will. The trees will soon be adorned in all of their beautiful foliage, and it is a beautiful time; but for a few mornings past it has been so called it felt like winter and a fellow thought of hunting rabbits.

—Hello Old Riddle! What is the matter with you? are you blind? If don't why don't you write? We all love to read the news from your section.
—Mrs. Harvey Kenemore, of the six mile section visited her mother-in-law, in the Pleasant Hill section Friday.
—Hello Farmer Girl! What has become of you? Wake up! I like to read your items.
Red Rose and Peach Blossom talks so much about B's fine horses that I am anxious to see this pair. B is a jolly old fellow any way. How about his sweet Greenville girl?
What has become of Old Wheel?
I wish the readers of the S.-J. would write more to it and then it would be more interesting to the subscribers.
Some people are planting cotton, but they had better look out the frost will get it.
Wake up subscribers and lets all of us write weekly letters to the dear old S.-J. I love to read the paper; I can enjoy myself when I sit down and read the news, especially the neighborhood gossip in the correspondents column.
All of you write from your section and each one lend a helping hand to the editor and help him to make of the S.-J. the ideal paper he is trying to make of it; and if you are owing anything on subscription send that in also, for it takes money to run his plant.
I was sitting out in my front porch Friday and who should pass but Mr. J. Aionzo Brown driving that fine pair of horses. Wonder if I could get to ride de-hinde that pair?
We live on the prettiest place on Central R.3; we have a nice flower-yard and it stays green all the winter and in summer it is in shade all the time. I can sit in my front porch and see the smoke from Central, Catechee and Seneca cotton mills.

—Hello Old Riddle! What is the matter with you? are you blind? If don't why don't you write? We all love to read the news from your section.
—Mrs. Harvey Kenemore, of the six mile section visited her mother-in-law, in the Pleasant Hill section Friday.
—Hello Farmer Girl! What has become of you? Wake up! I like to read your items.
Red Rose and Peach Blossom talks so much about B's fine horses that I am anxious to see this pair. B is a jolly old fellow any way. How about his sweet Greenville girl?
What has become of Old Wheel?
I wish the readers of the S.-J. would write more to it and then it would be more interesting to the subscribers.
Some people are planting cotton, but they had better look out the frost will get it.
Wake up subscribers and lets all of us write weekly letters to the dear old S.-J. I love to read the paper; I can enjoy myself when I sit down and read the news, especially the neighborhood gossip in the correspondents column.
All of you write from your section and each one lend a helping hand to the editor and help him to make of the S.-J. the ideal paper he is trying to make of it; and if you are owing anything on subscription send that in also, for it takes money to run his plant.
I was sitting out in my front porch Friday and who should pass but Mr. J. Aionzo Brown driving that fine pair of horses. Wonder if I could get to ride de-hinde that pair?
We live on the prettiest place on Central R.3; we have a nice flower-yard and it stays green all the winter and in summer it is in shade all the time. I can sit in my front porch and see the smoke from Central, Catechee and Seneca cotton mills.

—Hello Old Riddle! What is the matter with you? are you blind? If don't why don't you write? We all love to read the news from your section.
—Mrs. Harvey Kenemore, of the six mile section visited her mother-in-law, in the Pleasant Hill section Friday.
—Hello Farmer Girl! What has become of you? Wake up! I like to read your items.
Red Rose and Peach Blossom talks so much about B's fine horses that I am anxious to see this pair. B is a jolly old fellow any way. How about his sweet Greenville girl?
What has become of Old Wheel?
I wish the readers of the S.-J. would write more to it and then it would be more interesting to the subscribers.
Some people are planting cotton, but they had better look out the frost will get it.
Wake up subscribers and lets all of us write weekly letters to the dear old S.-J. I love to read the paper; I can enjoy myself when I sit down and read the news, especially the neighborhood gossip in the correspondents column.
All of you write from your section and each one lend a helping hand to the editor and help him to make of the S.-J. the ideal paper he is trying to make of it; and if you are owing anything on subscription send that in also, for it takes money to run his plant.
I was sitting out in my front porch Friday and who should pass but Mr. J. Aionzo Brown driving that fine pair of horses. Wonder if I could get to ride de-hinde that pair?
We live on the prettiest place on Central R.3; we have a nice flower-yard and it stays green all the winter and in summer it is in shade all the time. I can sit in my front porch and see the smoke from Central, Catechee and Seneca cotton mills.

—Hello Old Riddle! What is the matter with you? are you blind? If don't why don't you write? We all love to read the news from your section.
—Mrs. Harvey Kenemore, of the six mile section visited her mother-in-law, in the Pleasant Hill section Friday.
—Hello Farmer Girl! What has become of you? Wake up! I like to read your items.
Red Rose and Peach Blossom talks so much about B's fine horses that I am anxious to see this pair. B is a jolly old fellow any way. How about his sweet Greenville girl?
What has become of Old Wheel?
I wish the readers of the S.-J. would write more to it and then it would be more interesting to the subscribers.
Some people are planting cotton, but they had better look out the frost will get it.
Wake up subscribers and lets all of us write weekly letters to the dear old S.-J. I love to read the paper; I can enjoy myself when I sit down and read the news, especially the neighborhood gossip in the correspondents column.
All of you write from your section and each one lend a helping hand to the editor and help him to make of the S.-J. the ideal paper he is trying to make of it; and if you are owing anything on subscription send that in also, for it takes money to run his plant.
I was sitting out in my front porch Friday and who should pass but Mr. J. Aionzo Brown driving that fine pair of horses. Wonder if I could get to ride de-hinde that pair?
We live on the prettiest place on Central R.3; we have a nice flower-yard and it stays green all the winter and in summer it is in shade all the time. I can sit in my front porch and see the smoke from Central, Catechee and Seneca cotton mills.

—Hello Old Riddle! What is the matter with you? are you blind? If don't why don't you write? We all love to read the news from your section.
—Mrs. Harvey Kenemore, of the six mile section visited her mother-in-law, in the Pleasant Hill section Friday.
—Hello Farmer Girl! What has become of you? Wake up! I like to read your items.
Red Rose and Peach Blossom talks so much about B's fine horses that I am anxious to see this pair. B is a jolly old fellow any way. How about his sweet Greenville girl?
What has become of Old Wheel?
I wish the readers of the S.-J. would write more to it and then it would be more interesting to the subscribers.
Some people are planting cotton, but they had better look out the frost will get it.
Wake up subscribers and lets all of us write weekly letters to the dear old S.-J. I love to read the paper; I can enjoy myself when I sit down and read the news, especially the neighborhood gossip in the correspondents column.
All of you write from your section and each one lend a helping hand to the editor and help him to make of the S.-J. the ideal paper he is trying to make of it; and if you are owing anything on subscription send that in also, for it takes money to run his plant.
I was sitting out in my front porch Friday and who should pass but Mr. J. Aionzo Brown driving that fine pair of horses. Wonder if I could get to ride de-hinde that pair?
We live on the prettiest place on Central R.3; we have a nice flower-yard and it stays green all the winter and in summer it is in shade all the time. I can sit in my front porch and see the smoke from Central, Catechee and Seneca cotton mills.

—Hello Old Riddle! What is the matter with you? are you blind? If don't why don't you write? We all love to read the news from your section.
—Mrs. Harvey Kenemore, of the six mile section visited her mother-in-law, in the Pleasant Hill section Friday.
—Hello Farmer Girl! What has become of you? Wake up! I like to read your items.
Red Rose and Peach Blossom talks so much about B's fine horses that I am anxious to see this pair. B is a jolly old fellow any way. How about his sweet Greenville girl?
What has become of Old Wheel?
I wish the readers of the S.-J. would write more to it and then it would be more interesting to the subscribers.
Some people are planting cotton, but they had better look out the frost will get it.
Wake up subscribers and lets all of us write weekly letters to the dear old S.-J. I love to read the paper; I can enjoy myself when I sit down and read the news, especially the neighborhood gossip in the correspondents column.
All of you write from your section and each one lend a helping hand to the editor and help him to make of the S.-J. the ideal paper he is trying to make of it; and if you are owing anything on subscription send that in also, for it takes money to run his plant.
I was sitting out in my front porch Friday and who should pass but Mr. J. Aionzo Brown driving that fine pair of horses. Wonder if I could get to ride de-hinde that pair?
We live on the prettiest place on Central R.3; we have a nice flower-yard and it stays green all the winter and in summer it is in shade all the time. I can sit in my front porch and see the smoke from Central, Catechee and Seneca cotton mills.

—Hello Old Riddle! What is the matter with you? are you blind? If don't why don't you write? We all love to read the news from your section.
—Mrs. Harvey Kenemore, of the six mile section visited her mother-in-law, in the Pleasant Hill section Friday.
—Hello Farmer Girl! What has become of you? Wake up! I like to read your items.
Red Rose and Peach Blossom talks so much about B's fine horses that I am anxious to see this pair. B is a jolly old fellow any way. How about his sweet Greenville girl?
What has become of Old Wheel?
I wish the readers of the S.-J. would write more to it and then it would be more interesting to the subscribers.
Some people are planting cotton, but they had better look out the frost will get it.
Wake up subscribers and lets all of us write weekly letters to the dear old S.-J. I love to read the paper; I can enjoy myself when I sit down and read the news, especially the neighborhood gossip in the correspondents column.
All of you write from your section and each one lend a helping hand to the editor and help him to make of the S.-J. the ideal paper he is trying to make of it; and if you are owing anything on subscription send that in also, for it takes money to run his plant.
I was sitting out in my front porch Friday and who should pass but Mr. J. Aionzo Brown driving that fine pair of horses. Wonder if I could get to ride de-hinde that pair?
We live on the prettiest place on Central R.3; we have a nice flower-yard and it stays green all the winter and in summer it is in shade all the time. I can sit in my front porch and see the smoke from Central, Catechee and Seneca cotton mills.

—Hello Old Riddle! What is the matter with you? are you blind? If don't why don't you write? We all love to read the news from your section.
—Mrs. Harvey Kenemore, of the six mile section visited her mother-in-law, in the Pleasant Hill section Friday.
—Hello Farmer Girl! What has become of you? Wake up! I like to read your items.
Red Rose and Peach Blossom talks so much about B's fine horses that I am anxious to see this pair. B is a jolly old fellow any way. How about his sweet Greenville girl?
What has become of Old Wheel?
I wish the readers of the S.-J. would write more to it and then it would be more interesting to the subscribers.
Some people are planting cotton, but they had better look out the frost will get it.
Wake up subscribers and lets all of us write weekly letters to the dear old S.-J. I love to read the paper; I can enjoy myself when I sit down and read the news, especially the neighborhood gossip in the correspondents column.
All of you write from your section and each one lend a helping hand to the editor and help him to make of the S.-J. the ideal paper he is trying to make of it; and if you are owing anything on subscription send that in also, for it takes money to run his plant.
I was sitting out in my front porch Friday and who should pass but Mr. J. Aionzo Brown driving that fine pair of horses. Wonder if I could get to ride de-hinde that pair?
We live on the prettiest place on Central R.3; we have a nice flower-yard and it stays green all the winter and in summer it is in shade all the time. I can sit in my front porch and see the smoke from Central, Catechee and Seneca cotton mills.

—Hello Old Riddle! What is the matter with you? are you blind? If don't why don't you write? We all love to read the news from your section.
—Mrs. Harvey Kenemore, of the six mile section visited her mother-in-law, in the Pleasant Hill section Friday.
—Hello Farmer Girl! What has become of you? Wake up! I like to read your items.
Red Rose and Peach Blossom talks so much about B's fine horses that I am anxious to see this pair. B is a jolly old fellow any way. How about his sweet Greenville girl?
What has become of Old Wheel?
I wish the readers of the S.-J. would write more to it and then it would be more interesting to the subscribers.
Some people are planting cotton, but they had better look out the frost will get it.
Wake up subscribers and lets all of us write weekly letters to the dear old S.-J. I love to read the paper; I can enjoy myself when I sit down and read the news, especially the neighborhood gossip in the correspondents column.
All of you write from your section and each one lend a helping hand to the editor and help him to make of the S.-J. the ideal paper he is trying to make of it; and if you are owing anything on subscription send that in also, for it takes money to run his plant.
I was sitting out in my front porch Friday and who should pass but Mr. J. Aionzo Brown driving that fine pair of horses. Wonder if I could get to ride de-hinde that pair?
We live on the prettiest place on Central R.3; we have a nice flower-yard and it stays green all the winter and in summer it is in shade all the time. I can sit in my front porch and see the smoke from Central, Catechee and Seneca cotton mills.

—Hello Old Riddle! What is the matter with you? are you blind? If don't why don't you write? We all love to read the news from your section.
—Mrs. Harvey Kenemore, of the six mile section visited her mother-in-law, in the Pleasant Hill section Friday.
—Hello Farmer Girl! What has become of you? Wake up! I like to read your items.
Red Rose and Peach Blossom talks so much about B's fine horses that I am anxious to see this pair. B is a jolly old fellow any way. How about his sweet Greenville girl?
What has become of Old Wheel?
I wish the readers of the S.-J. would write more to it and then it would be more interesting to the subscribers.
Some people are planting cotton, but they had better look out the frost will get it.
Wake up subscribers and lets all of us write weekly letters to the dear old S.-J. I love to read the paper; I can enjoy myself when I sit down and read the news, especially the neighborhood gossip in the correspondents column.
All of you write from your section and each one lend a helping hand to the editor and help him to make of the S.-J. the ideal paper he is trying to make of it; and if you are owing anything on subscription send that in also, for it takes money to run his plant.
I was sitting out in my front porch Friday and who should pass but Mr. J. Aionzo Brown driving that fine pair of horses. Wonder if I could get to ride de-hinde that pair?
We live on the prettiest place on Central R.3; we have a nice flower-yard and it stays green all the winter and in summer it is in shade all the time. I can sit in my front porch and see the smoke from Central, Catechee and Seneca cotton mills.

—Hello Old Riddle! What is the matter with you? are you blind? If don't why don't you write? We all love to read the news from your section.
—Mrs. Harvey Kenemore, of the six mile section visited her mother-in-law, in the Pleasant Hill section Friday.
—Hello Farmer Girl! What has become of you? Wake up! I like to read your items.
Red Rose and Peach Blossom talks so much about B's fine horses that I am anxious to see this pair. B is a jolly old fellow any way. How about his sweet Greenville girl?
What has become of Old Wheel?
I wish the readers of the S.-J. would write more to it and then it would be more interesting to the subscribers.
Some people are planting cotton, but they had better look out the frost will get it.
Wake up subscribers and lets all of us write weekly letters to the dear old S.-J. I love to read the paper; I can enjoy myself when I sit down and read the news, especially the neighborhood gossip in the correspondents column.
All of you write from your section and each one lend a helping hand to the editor and help him to make of the S.-J. the ideal paper he is trying to make of it; and if you are owing anything on subscription send that in also, for it takes money to run his plant.
I was sitting out in my front porch Friday and who should pass but Mr. J. Aionzo Brown driving that fine pair of horses. Wonder if I could get to ride de-hinde that pair?
We live on the prettiest place on Central R.3; we have a nice flower-yard and it stays green all the winter and in summer it is in shade all the time. I can sit in my front porch and see the smoke from Central, Catechee and Seneca cotton mills.

—Hello Old Riddle! What is the matter with you? are you blind? If don't why don't you write? We all love to read the news from your section.
—Mrs. Harvey Kenemore, of the six mile section visited her mother-in-law, in the Pleasant Hill section Friday.
—Hello Farmer Girl! What has become of you? Wake up! I like to read your items.
Red Rose and Peach Blossom talks so much about B's fine horses that I am anxious to see this pair. B is a jolly old fellow any way. How about his sweet Greenville girl?
What has become of Old Wheel?
I wish the readers of the S.-J. would write more to it and then it would be more interesting to the subscribers.
Some people are planting cotton, but they had better look out the frost will get it.
Wake up subscribers and lets all of us write weekly letters to the dear old S.-J. I love to read the paper; I can enjoy myself when I sit down and read the news, especially the neighborhood gossip in the correspondents column.
All of you write from your section and each one lend a helping hand to the editor and help him to make of the S.-J. the ideal paper he is trying to make of it; and if you are owing anything on subscription send that in also, for it takes money to run his plant.
I was sitting out in my front porch Friday and who should pass but Mr. J. Aionzo Brown driving that fine pair of horses. Wonder if I could get to ride de-hinde that pair?
We live on the prettiest place on Central R.3; we have a nice flower-yard and it stays green all the winter and in summer it is in shade all the time. I can sit in my front porch and see the smoke from Central, Catechee and Seneca cotton mills.

—Hello Old Riddle! What is the matter with you? are you blind? If don't why don't you write? We all love to read the news from your section.
—Mrs. Harvey Kenemore, of the six mile section visited her mother-in-law, in the Pleasant Hill section Friday.
—Hello Farmer Girl! What has become of you? Wake up! I like to read your items.
Red Rose and Peach Blossom talks so much about B's fine horses that I am anxious to see this pair. B is a jolly old fellow any way. How about his sweet Greenville girl?
What has become of Old Wheel?
I wish the readers of the S.-J. would write more to it and then it would be more interesting to the subscribers.
Some people are planting cotton, but they had better look out the frost will get it.
Wake up subscribers and lets all of us write weekly letters to the dear old S.-J. I love to read the paper; I can enjoy myself when I sit down and read the news, especially the neighborhood gossip in the correspondents column.
All of you write from your section and each one lend a helping hand to the editor and help him to make of the S.-J. the ideal paper he is trying to make of it; and if you are owing anything on subscription send that in also, for it takes money to run his plant.
I was sitting out in my front porch Friday and who should pass but Mr. J. Aionzo Brown driving that fine pair of horses. Wonder if I could get to ride de-hinde that pair?
We live on the prettiest place on Central R.3; we have a nice flower-yard and it stays green all the winter and in summer it is in shade all the time. I can sit in my front porch and see the smoke from Central, Catechee and Seneca cotton mills.

—Hello Old Riddle! What is the matter with you? are you blind? If don't why don't you write? We all love to read the news from your section.
—Mrs. Harvey Kenemore, of the six mile section visited her mother-in-law, in the Pleasant Hill section Friday.
—Hello Farmer Girl! What has become of you? Wake up! I like to read your items.
Red Rose and Peach Blossom talks so much about B's fine horses that I am anxious to see this pair. B is a jolly old fellow any way. How about his sweet Greenville girl?
What has become of Old Wheel?
I wish the readers of the S.-J. would write more to it and then it would be more interesting to the subscribers.
Some people are planting cotton, but they had better look out the frost will get it.
Wake up subscribers and lets all of us write weekly letters to the dear old S.-J. I love to read the paper; I can enjoy myself when I sit down and read the news, especially the neighborhood gossip in the correspondents column.
All of you write from your section and each one lend a helping hand to the editor and help him to make of the S.-J. the ideal paper he is trying to make of it; and if you are owing anything on subscription send that in also, for it takes money to run his plant.
I was sitting out in my front porch Friday and who should pass but Mr. J. Aionzo Brown driving that fine pair of horses. Wonder if I could get to ride de-hinde that pair?
We live on the prettiest place on Central R.3; we have a nice flower-yard and it stays green all the winter and in summer it is in shade all the time. I can sit in my front porch and see the smoke from Central, Catechee and Seneca cotton mills.

—Hello Old Riddle! What is the matter with you? are you blind? If don't why don't you write? We all love to read the news from your section.
—Mrs. Harvey Kenemore, of the six mile section visited her mother-in-law, in the Pleasant Hill section Friday.
—Hello Farmer Girl! What has become of you? Wake up! I like to read your items.
Red Rose and Peach Blossom talks so much about B's fine horses that I am anxious to see this pair. B is a jolly old fellow any way. How about his sweet Greenville girl?
What has become of Old Wheel?
I wish the readers of the S.-J. would write more to it and then it would be more interesting to the subscribers.
Some people are planting cotton, but they had better look out the frost will get it.
Wake up subscribers and lets all of us write weekly letters to the dear old S.-J. I love to read the paper; I can enjoy myself when I sit down and read the news, especially the neighborhood gossip in the correspondents column.
All of you write from your section and each one lend a helping hand to the editor and help him to make of the S.-J. the ideal paper he is trying to make of it; and if you are owing anything on subscription send that in also, for it takes money to run his plant.
I was sitting out in my front porch Friday and who should pass but Mr. J. Aionzo Brown driving that fine pair of horses. Wonder if I could get to ride de-hinde that pair?
We live on the prettiest place on Central R.3; we have a nice flower-yard and it stays green all the winter and in summer it is in shade all the time. I can sit in my front porch and see the smoke from Central, Catechee and Seneca cotton mills.

—Hello Old Riddle! What is the matter with you? are you blind? If don't why don't you write? We all love to read the news from your section.
—Mrs. Harvey Kenemore, of the six mile section visited her mother-in-law, in the Pleasant Hill section Friday.
—Hello Farmer Girl! What has become of you? Wake up! I like to read your items.
Red Rose and Peach Blossom talks so much about B's fine horses that I am anxious to see this pair. B is a jolly old fellow any way. How about his sweet Greenville girl?
What has become of Old Wheel?
I wish the readers of the S.-J. would write more to it and then it would be more interesting to the subscribers.
Some people are planting cotton, but they had better look out the frost will get it.
Wake up subscribers and lets all of us write weekly letters to the dear old S.-J. I love to read the paper; I can enjoy myself when I sit down and read the news, especially the neighborhood gossip in the correspondents column.
All of you write from your section and each one lend a helping hand to the editor and help him to make of the S.-J. the ideal paper he is trying to make of it; and if you are owing anything on subscription send that in also, for it takes money to run his plant.
I was sitting out in my front porch Friday and who should pass but Mr. J. Aionzo Brown driving that fine pair of horses. Wonder if I could get to ride de-hinde that pair?
We live on the prettiest place on Central R.3; we have a nice flower-yard and it stays green all the winter and in summer it is in shade all the time. I can sit in my front porch and see the smoke from Central, Catechee and Seneca cotton mills.

—Hello Old Riddle! What is the matter with you? are you blind? If don't why don't you write? We all love to read the news from your section.
—Mrs. Harvey Kenemore, of the six mile section visited her mother-in-law, in the Pleasant Hill section Friday.
—Hello Farmer Girl! What has become of you? Wake up! I like to read your items.
Red Rose and Peach Blossom talks so much about B's fine horses that I am anxious to see this pair. B is a jolly old fellow any way. How about his sweet Greenville girl?
What has become of Old Wheel?
I wish the readers of the S.-J. would write more to it and then it would be more interesting to the subscribers.
Some people are planting cotton, but they had better look out the frost will get it.
Wake up subscribers and lets all of us write weekly letters to the dear old S.-J. I love to read the paper; I can enjoy myself when I sit down and read the news, especially the neighborhood gossip in the correspondents column.
All of you write from your section and each one lend a helping hand to the editor and help him to make of the S.-J. the ideal paper he is trying to make of it; and if you are owing anything on subscription send that in also, for it takes money to run his plant.
I was sitting out in my front porch Friday and who should pass but Mr. J. Aionzo Brown driving that fine pair of horses. Wonder if I could get to ride de-hinde that pair?
We live on the prettiest place on Central R.3; we have a nice flower-yard and it stays green all the winter and in summer it is in shade all the time. I can sit in my front porch and see the smoke from Central, Catechee and Seneca cotton mills.

—Hello Old Riddle! What is the matter with you? are you blind? If don't why don't you write? We all love to read the news from your section.
—Mrs. Harvey Kenemore, of the six mile section visited her mother-in-law, in the Pleasant Hill section Friday.
—Hello Farmer Girl! What has become of you? Wake up! I like to read your items.
Red Rose and Peach Blossom talks so much about B's fine horses that I am anxious to see this pair. B is a jolly old fellow any way. How about his sweet Greenville girl?
What has become of Old Wheel?
I wish the readers of the S.-J. would write more to it and then it would be more interesting to the subscribers.
Some people are planting cotton, but they had better look out the frost will get it.
Wake up subscribers and lets all of us write weekly letters to the dear old S.-J. I love to read the paper; I can enjoy myself when I sit down and read the news, especially the neighborhood gossip in the correspondents column.
All of you write from your section and each one lend a helping hand to the editor and help him to make of the S.-J. the ideal paper he is trying to make of it; and if you are owing anything on subscription send that in also, for it takes money to run his plant.
I was sitting out in my front porch Friday and who should pass but Mr. J. Aionzo Brown driving that fine pair of horses. Wonder if I could get to ride de-hinde that pair?
We live on the prettiest place on Central R.3; we have a nice flower-yard and it stays green all the winter and in summer it is in shade all the time. I can sit in my front porch and see the smoke from Central, Catechee and Seneca cotton mills.

—Hello Old Riddle! What is the matter with you? are you blind? If don't why don't you write? We all love to read the news from your section.
—Mrs. Harvey Kenemore, of the six mile section visited her mother-in-law, in the Pleasant Hill section Friday.
—Hello Farmer Girl! What has become of you? Wake up! I like to read your items.
Red Rose and Peach Blossom talks so much about B's fine horses that I am anxious to see this pair. B is a jolly old fellow any way. How about his sweet Greenville girl?
What has become of Old Wheel?
I wish the readers of the S.-J. would write more to it and then it would be more interesting to the subscribers.
Some people are planting cotton, but they had better look out the frost will get it.
Wake up subscribers and lets all of us write weekly letters to the dear old S.-J. I love to read the paper; I can enjoy myself when I sit down and read the news, especially the neighborhood gossip in the correspondents column.
All of you write from